

OPEN STUDY ROOM

1k members Party

It was a foggy evening in February 2019 when the 1000th member entered the Open Study Room to deepen their knowledge of Go. To celebrate this milestone, we are organising a series of events taking place during March.

The events will start on the third of March with a lecture by Su Yang (6d EGF) aka Jeff. The lecture topic, as chosen by our community, will be "Direction of Play". It will take place in the OSR room on KGS.

The second weekend of March will give you a chance to compete in our celebration tournament (details below) on Saturday. Our friend and teacher Guo Juan (5p) from the Internet Go School will review two tournament games on Sunday.

On Saturday the 23rd Cornel Burzo (6d EGF) will play against 3 OSR members of different strengths (Dan, SDK and DDK) in a simultaneous game. People who play the celebration tournament or recently played in our monthly leagues qualify for a raffle which will be used to select these players.

The final weekend will see a Discord voice party where you can hang out and chat with other OSR members and the team. We will also set up some games involving the team.

Tournament registration (Sat 09 March)

Registration will take place through Discord (contact Kamelotusky or korni). Don't forget to share with us your rank and OSR username, so we can place you in the appropriate category. Non-OSR members are also welcome, however they will have to register for an account on our website, and follow our Discord during the competition.
